

PLE NGES

University of Virginia and a bachelor's in political science and Spanish from Duke University.

Health care

Bradley Prestidge, MD, MS, has joined Bon Secours Oncology Specialists, which has offices in Portsmouth and Norfolk, and Bon Secours Hampton Roads as regional medical director for radiation oncology. With more than 24 years of experience, Prestidge specializes in brachytherapy in the treatment of breast, prostate, cervical and other cancers.

Prestidge

Prior to joining Bon Secours, Prestidge was medical director of the Department of Radiation Oncology at Memorial Hermann Southwest Hospital in Houston. He was also the adjunct professor at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, Graduate Studies for Radiological Sciences.

Prestidge earned his medical degree from Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Md., and served an internship in internal medicine at David Grant USAF Medical Center at Travis Air Force Base in Fairfield, Calif. In addition, he completed a residency in radiation oncology at Stanford University Hospital in Stanford, Calif.

He is the recent president and current chairman of the American Brachytherapy Society and a member of American College of Radiation Oncology and American Society of Clinical Oncology. Additionally, he is the vice chair of the American Society for Therapeutic Radiology and Oncology Nuclear Regulatory Commission Committee, is an NCI investigator and principal investigator at the RTOG, and member of the RTOG GU steering committee.

Robert Lancey, MD, MBA, a board-certified cardiothoracic surgeon, has joined Cardiovascular & Thoracic Specialists in Portsmouth and the Bon Secours Hampton Roads Health System.

Lancey

Lancey received a bachelor's from the College of the Holy Cross and his medical degree from the University of Massachusetts Medical School. He completed his general surgery and thoracic surgery residencies at University of Massachusetts Medical Center. Further study includes an MBA at Cornell University.

He previously served as chief of cardiac surgery and network medical director at Bassett Medical Center in Cooperstown, N.Y. He also taught as an associate clinical professor of surgery at Columbia University and Albany Medical College. He has contributed to numerous peer-reviewed studies, been published in medical journals and received 14 medical honors, including the American Medical Association's Physician Recognition Award with Commendation.

Penny Thompson has been named vice president of Chesapeake Regional Medical Group and physician development for Chesapeake Regional Medical Center. Thompson has more than 23 years of physician office management experience and most recently acted as the administrative director of CRMG.

Thompson

Thompson will be responsible for providing oversight to the director of CRMG operations and facilitating goal-setting and objectives for CRMG as they pertain to growth, revenue cycle and patient care. In addition, Thompson will be responsible for the development and implementation of the Chesapeake Regional physician hospital organization. She will provide assistance by facilitating and managing processes within the quality, information technology and finance subcommittees. Thompson will also provide leadership in establishing patient-centered medical homes in the primary care practices and patient-centered specialty programs in the specialty practices throughout the PHO.

Previously Thompson served as network executive for Halley Consulting Group and as vice president and chief operating officer for Bon Secours Medical Group. She has also acted as practice administrator for Tidewater Surgical Specialists Inc. and Tidewater Kidney Specialists Inc. She has more than 25 years of experience in physician practice management, network development, revenue cycle improvement, EMR implementation, and coding and documentation expertise.

Housing

Allison Bogdanovi has been named executive director of Virginia Supportive Housing, which owns and operates 460 apartment units in Richmond, Hampton Roads and Charlottesville, and has 225 units of scattered-site housing. She will succeed Alice Tousignant, who is retiring Jan. 1.

Bogdanovi was selected through a regional and national search to run the organization.

She has been the director of housing and development at VSH and has worked for the agency for more than 10 years. In her current role, she has helped VSH raise more than $45 million in capital funding and spearheaded developments in Richmond, Hampton Roads and Charlottesville.

Engineering

Timmons Group, a multi-disciplined civil engineering and professional consulting services firm, made the following additions in its Hampton Roads office:

- Ryan Kiss has more than 18 years of experience in civil engineering that includes site layout, grading, erosion and sediment control, and stormwater management.

Kiss previously worked for a major engineering consulting firm in Virginia, responsible for civil engineering projects from conceptualization to completion. He worked on the 365-acre mixed-use development, New Town in Williamsburg, and the residential community Village Bend in Virginia Beach.

- John Zaszewski is a project manager. Zaszewski has more than seven years of experience in the site planning design industry including site layout, grading, drainage, sanitary sewer design and civil construction document permitting.

Previously he worked as project manager for a major engineering consulting firm in Virginia, responsible for contract writing, sub-consultant coordination, in-house survey coordination and project execution of civil design teams.

He is a member of American Society of Civil Engineers and National Society of Professional Engineers. He worked on the mixed-use development, Yorktown Crescent, and the Wells Fargo Tower in Norfolk. He is a graduate of Lehigh University with a bachelor's in mechanical engineering.

Technology

Mike Alexander has been hired at Endurance IT Services in Virginia Beach as director of consulting.

Alexander has more than 25 years of IT experience, having worked with companies of all sizes, private, government and public. He has served in leadership or director positions for more than 15 years, focusing primarily on product and service delivery.

Alexander

» CONTINUED ON NEXT PAGE